DETAILED ACTION

This Action is in response to the communication filed on 10/14/2010.

The amendment filed 10/14/2010 is acknowledged and has been entered.

Claims 27-31, 35-48 are currently pending in the application and are addressed herein.

Applicant's argument submitted 10/14/2010 that claims 37-42 and 45-48 are directed to targeting molecules for which no species election requirement was made has been considered and, with respect to claims 37-42, 45-46, is persuasive. However, it is respectfully pointed out that claims 47 and 47 are drawn to the method of claim 4 wherein the biologically active molecule is not TNF-alpha or IL-12, which are the elected biologically active factors as previously set forth. Therefore, claims 47 and 48 (as well as previously examined claims remain withdrawn from consideration and claims 37-42, 45-46 are further considered herein. However, upon further consideration of claims 37-42 and 45-46, it has been determined that claims 37-42 and 45-46 encompass different species which necessitates the election of single targeting molecule of claims 37-42 and 45-46 before prosecution can proceed. It is noted that claims 27-31, 35 and 6 will be addressed, as well as Applicants response submitted 10/14/2010, will be addressed in the action following the election of species as set forth herein.

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of targeting molecules as encompassed by previously withdrawn claims 37-42, 45-46:

The species of targeting molecules are: cancer cell specific antigen, polyclonal antibody, monoclonal antibody.

Furthermore, should Applicant elect the species "cancer cell specific antigen" further election of one of the following claimed species of cancer cell specific antigens is also required: MART, MAGE, BAGE.

2. The species are independent or distinct because each species is structurally and functionally distinct from the other species and a search of one species would not necessarily fully cover the search required for the other claimed species. In addition, these species are not obvious variants of each other based on the current record.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, or a single grouping of patentably indistinct species, for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 37-42, 45, 46 are considered generic.

There is a search and/or examination burden for the patentably distinct species as set forth above because at least the following reason(s) apply: Each species is structurally distinct from the other species, thus each requires a different search, and a search of one species would not necessarily fully cover the search required for the other claimed species.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or a grouping of patentably indistinct species to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected species or grouping of patentably indistinct species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

The election may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the election of species requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected species or grouping of patentably indistinct species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species, or groupings of patentably indistinct species from which election is required, are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing them to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the species unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other species.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141.

3. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
